- 1 VCU residential living can be one of your most rewarding college experiences.
- 2 The housing application provides the opportunity to find and select a potential roommate based on shared interests such as music, major, sleep habits, etc.
- 3 As an on-campus resident student, you're more likely to have a higher GPA and complete your degree on time.
- 4 Living on campus provides you with built-in study partners, which can positively impact your academic achievement.
- 5 You get more involved in campus life by living on campus and participating in activities offered exclusively for resident students.
- 6 Freshmen with similar interests or academic majors have the opportunity to live in Residential Villages like the Artist's Colony, The Boardroom, Clinical Corner and the Doctors Lounge. These villages fuse learning with community living by providing easy access to study groups, field trips, faculty presentations, movie nights, guest lectures, and more.
- 7 Housing costs are all inclusive and billed each semester to your student account, where your financial aid can be applied toward these charges.
- 8 University residence halls provide 24-hour security by VCU Police-trained staff.
- 9 More than 80% of VCU freshmen love living on campus.
- 10 You can experience the amazing diversity of the VCU residential community, making friends with students from different cultures and other regions of the United States - maybe even a new friend from your own hometown!
